

SOAPSTone. Read the passage again. Identify each of the following.

Speaker: Who is the speaker of the passage? What is their background? Why are they making the points they are making? Is there a bias in what was written? Answers must be supported by the text.
Occasion: What is the occasion (time and place)? What prompted the author to write this piece? What led to its publication or development? How do you know from the text?
Audience: Who is the audience? Who is the group of readers to whom the passage is directed? What assumptions can you make about the audience (race, sex, social class, political affiliation)?
Purpose: What is the purpose (meaning behind the text)? In what way is the message conveyed? What is the document stating?
Strategies: List three strategies the author uses to fulfill his purpose. <ol style="list-style-type: none">1.2.3.
Subject: What is the general topic, content, or idea of the passage? How do you know this? ----- Tone: What is the attitude of the speaker toward the subject? How do you know? What is in the text that supports your answer?	